

Article (58)

Besides the power and function enshrined in the constitution of Jamiat Ulama-i-Hind, the general secretary will enjoy following power and function:

- (a) To affect changes with the consultation and advice of the President in the affairs of different departments and the Secretaries.
- (b) Recruit of temporary employees and their removal, supervision of the work of various departments working under him.
- (c) Supervision of the policy being pursued by the Aljamiat newspaper and other newspapers and magazines and running them according to the policy of the Jamiat Ulama-i-Hind.
- (d) Issuance of directives and guidelines to the Secretaries of various departments and appointment of caretaker General Secretary with the consultation of the President during long absence from the headquarter.
- (e) Supervision and management of the office of the Jamiat Ulama-i-Hind.
- (f) Writing of departmental letters as well as letters related with the affairs of Jamiat Ulama-i-Hind
- (g) Sending of delegations for different purposes at various palaces and to pass their bill of expenditure.
- (h) If the function of State Jamiat is suspended and it has failed to achieve the desired objective of the Jamiat and the central working committee is unsatisfied with its performance, then the general secretary will resort to following action with the advice and consultation of the central working committee:

(1) Removal of the present office bearers and dissolution of the state working committee and its replacement with a new ad hoc committee consisting of few persons that will convene meeting of managing committee within six months for electing new office bearers. But the ad hoc committee will continue to function if the term of new managing committee is less than nine months and will conduct election to for the fresh term to dispose off all the function to it.

(2) Annulment of present state Jamiat and formation of ad hoc committee, which will conduct new election and start new membership drive within six months. But if the duration of this term is less than one year than the ad hoc will itself complete this term and will conduct election for the next term and will dispose off all the function to it.

(3) If there remains no time for conducting next election then ad hoc committee, which consists of not less than seven members, will unanimously increase its present membership. But its total strength could exceed more than fifteen members.

(4) Preservation of the proceedings of the sessions of Jamiat Ulama-i-Hind, its managing committee and the working committee and making it to available all its members.

(5) To take stock of the constructive programmes and presentation of state wise report in the General Session with the approval of the working committee. These functions of the General Secretary are governed according to article 6 to 10 of the Jamiats constitution.

(6) To fix target of the constructive programmes for all the state Jamiat for every new term and handing over of its responsibilities to the office bearers. In case of non-implementation, calling for the explanation and recommendation to working committee for initiating punitive action.

(7) To make available forms, maps, relevant literature and information to the state Jamiat for carry out its activities.

(8) Recruitment and removal of employees with the consultation and advice of the president up to the grade of two thousand and five hundred.

(9) According to article 57-sub clause (k), presentation for getting approval of annual budget in the session of the managing committee.

(10) According to article 57-sub clause (h), presentation and approved of annual budget in the meeting of working committee for getting extension of the budgetary duration.

(11) Presentation of monthly estimate of income and expenditure before the meeting of the working committee.

(12) To get audited annual estimate of income and expenditure and to present the audited report before the working committee for getting its approval.

(13) Deposition of received money in the banks.

(14) Protection and preservation of all movable and immovable property of Jamiat Ulama-i-Hind and keeping of their documentary records.

(15) Resorting to legal process and availing the services of lawyers for getting vacated its property and acquisition of its financial income.

(16) Apart from approved annual budget keeping ten thousand rupees at his disposal for the daily expenditure.

(17) Payment of normal expenditure approved by the working committee.